Dear Anne & Robert,

I just wanted to inform you of my stance on any further transfer of IP rights where I am a named inventor. As I am in dispute with the University over some of the patents, I have been advised by my lawyer that I should not sign any more documentation or assign any more rights to the University until the dispute has been resolved. Any transfer or change of rights/inventorship of patents where I am named as an inventor which has not been agreed to and signed off by me may be subject to legal dispute.

As you know, I am very disappointed at my treatment by the University in this matter and hope that we can resolve all of these issues as soon as possible.

Best wishes,

Kabi
